424 Interstate Traffic By 1967
The $121.8 million put to work on interstate construction in Alabama during the first two years of this administration will result in 424 interstate miles under traffic by January, 1967, Governor George C. Wallace said today.

During 1965, eighty-three miles will be opened in sections varying from 6 miles on Interstate Route 65 north of Prattville to 20 miles on Route 10 from the Mississippi line to Navajo. Now under construction are 229 miles of the State's five interstate routes.

The 257 miles now in use were completed at the rate of 23 miles in 1964; 52 miles in 1963; 87 in 1962; 8 in 1961; 59 in 1960; and 28 in 1959. The first section opened was 28 miles from 65 from I-65 to I-20 in September, 1964.

Since the beginning of the interstate program in 1950, Alabama has awarded 233 construction contracts for a total cost of $270,000,000, on a 90-10 matching basis for federal and state funds. Right-of-way has been purchased at a cost of $45,000,000 on 520 miles of the 878-mile system.

Urban interstate is showing tangible results of its long period of planning. Preliminary engineering in Mobile $42.5 million is under construction; in Montgomery, $872,000; and in Birmingham, $7.4 million.

Total cost of Alabama's 878-mile interstate system is estimated at $933,600,000, when complete in 1971.

Civil Defense Plan Escape Route In Case Of Fire

What would your family know what to do if fire struck your home tonight? If you can't answer yes, you ought to call a family conference immediately to work out a fire escape plan.

According to the American Insurance Association, you should try to plan two escape routes in the event one is cut off by flames or smoke.

It is particularly important, the American Insurance Association says, that small children and elderly people know these routes well, so that they may exit quickly, with a minimum of confusion, at the first sign of fire.

This applies to bundles making up to a third of a sack but not enough for a direct shipment to a destination.

The deadline for this procedure is July 1 of this year. Mr. Gronowski described it as "a modest requirement," affecting only a few mailers, but it will mean considerable savings to the Department.

Mandatory pre-sorting by ZIP Code for second and third class mailers is being accomplished by administrative action, Mr. Gronowski said the Department.

The annual local leader banquet was held Thursday night, February 25, at the Elba High School lunchroom. Approximately 75 local leaders, 4-H Club presidents, and other friends and supporters of the 4-H Club program were present.

Bill Whigham, County Council Vice President, was the master of ceremonies for this occasion. The invocation was given by Miranda McCall, County Council Devotional Leader. Carl Sanders, Elementary County Council President, gave the welcome.

Kathy Sanders, County Council Secretary, introduced the program. Miss Faye Allen, Alabama Farm Bureau Talent Winner, played a melody of piano selections. Miss Pat Aldridge, State 4-H Club Talent Winner from Troy, encertained the group with several vocal numbers. Miss Katy Sue Meredith, 1964 National Maid of Cotton, talked briefly about her experiences as the National Maid of Cotton. Katy Sue is presently employed as the assistant home demonstration agent in Pike County.

We feel that the whole affair was a big success and certainly want to express our thanks to Dorsey Trallars of Elba for sponsoring it. We also wish to express our thanks to the Bonnie Taylor Home Demonstration Club for preparing and serving the delicious meal.

If you have cattle that will be ready for market in the near future, why not put them in this sale. Plans are to have a large number of buyers at the sale. Don't forget the date--April 7--at the Enterprise Livestock Barn.

Weeds cost Alabama farmers over $60 million every year. They rob crops of water, fertilizer, growing room, and sunlight. They lower the quantity--and quality--of many farm products.

Red Cross Urges Local Membership

Fred Clark is chairman of the local Red Cross membership drive. Sally Sawyer is chairman of West Coffee. Mrs. Edith Sawyer, supervisor of Montgomery who took the place vacated by Miss Mary Mathis, of Selma, met with the local committee this week.

Our membership in the Red Cross is being helped along hand to many through the aid it offers in time of disaster and through a wide variety of daily community services, as well. When you give to the Red Cross you give to support nursing services and to help prolong the life giving blood program. You give to serve veterans, members of the armed forces and their families.

when disaster strikes the American Red Cross immediately provides food, shelter, and clothing and supplements medical and nursing care for disaster victims. The organization works closely with local, state, and federal agencies responsible for warning, rescue and evacuation, and protection of life and property.

Once the immediate emergency has passed, the

Bloodmobile Makes Fourth Visit To Elba

The Bloodmobile will make their fourth visit to Elba Friday, March 19th according to Bill Pierce, working chairman. Sam Sawyer is overall chairman. This will be the first visit of the bloodmobile in 1965.

The bloodmobile will be set up and in operation from 10 o'clock that Friday morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, at the First Baptist Church. The quota calls for 124 pints of acceptable blood.

Everyone is urged to go to the Baptist Church during the hours set up and offer a pint of blood to the blood program. Donating to the blood program helps many people in time of urgent necessity. A plastic container of blood can mean
